TWELVE PAGES—FIVE CENTS

Anti-Trumanites Shift Power To President

Running Mate Contest Still Unsettled

By Douglas B. Cornell
Philadelphia, July 10—AP—The Democratic clans, after feuding fiercely for months, closed ranks almost solidly tonight behind Harry Truman for president.

But they held the vice-presidential contest wide open for the national convention beginning Monday and ending, it may be, as early as Wednesday.

First the running mate swing was toward Senator Scott Lucas of Illinois. Then it moved toward Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, and then toward Senator Joseph C. Mahoney of Wyoming.

Nomination Definite
Douglas said in Oregon that he would not quit the bench for the vice-presidential nomination.

But there wasn't any doubt about the presidential nominee. The Democrats are going to place in the White House Mr. Truman the winner of four victories in a row.

If any clincher was needed, the oldest son of the late F.D.R. supplied it. James Roosevelt announced tonight he was cancelling a caucus he had called with the idea of lining up power behind Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for president.

Up to that point, there had been some suggestions that the caucus might go on anyway, to look over other possibilities than the general. Eisenhower knocked the props from under the campaign for him with a statement yesterday that he would not accept the nomination under any terms.

Anti-Truman southerners kept up gestures of opposition to nominating the President for a full four-year term.

Party leaders from seven southern states picked a committee to seek a possible candidate on whom they could agree at a caucus of their own tomorrow. Some of them talked of Senator Richard Russell of Georgia.

West Backs Truman
A bigger huddle of midwesterners—13 states with around a fifth of the 1,234 convention votes—agreed unanimously to back Mr. Truman. Heads of 12 of the 13 farm belt delegations then voted also to back O'Mahoney for vice president.

O'Mahoney is the only vice presidential possibility out in the open. He has set up a campaign headquarters here.

Both McGrath and Leslie L. Biffle said so far as they knew, Mr. Truman had not decided whom he could prefer for a running mate.

Still unsettled, too, is what the party platform will look like. The big issue is whether to nail in planks calling for laws against lynching, job taxes and racial discrimination in jobs.

McGrath told a news conference the convention might be all over by Wednesday. That depends partly on whether southerners stir up a fight on the convention floor over civil rights-racial issues.

Announce Staff Assembled To Cover Demo Convention

To cover the Democratic national convention for the Jacksonville Journal-Courier the Associated Press is assembling in Philadelphia approximately the same fast-moving staff that won applause of newspapers throughout the country for its reporting of the Republican convention.

The staff represents AP's top talent in 15 cities. Including reporters, editors, photographers, columnists, communications experts and clerical workers it will number about 80 persons. During the Republican convention, checks of newspapers receiving two or more press services showed that they preferred AP coverage by more than three to one.

Already in Philadelphia is an advance team from Washington including Jack Bell and Douglas B. Cornell, political experts who will write the main convention stories for afternoon and morning newspapers, respectively.

With them are Ovid Martin, specialist on agriculture, Francis LeMay, authority on taxes and social security, and Max Hall, national labor reporter.

Byliners who will cover unusual or special aspects of the convention include Hal Boyle, roving columnist; Art Edson, who will record the odd, humorous and whimsical; and James Marlow, whose column "The Nation Today" will explain the significance of things in man-in-the-street language.

As was the case during the Republican convention, the Associated Press is extending its nationwide teletype circuits directly into its Convention Hall workroom, to its platform location and into the Bellevue-Stratford hotel, convention headquarters whose junior ballroom is being taken over as AP's headquarters workroom.

Include Regional Writers
The special staff of regional reporters giving detailed coverage of each state's delegation for "back home" readers has been reorganized to give full coverage for heavily Democratic areas and for states with intra-party problems such as the anti-Truman movement. The Midwest, and particularly Illinois, will be represented by Louis Kramp of Chicago.

Convention coverage will be under the over-all direction of Reiman Morin, chief of the Washington bureau, and Washington News Editor William L. Beale. Jr. Others on the executive staff will be Resch and Chief of Bureau Joseph Snyder of Philadelphia.

Demos Blast GOP For Not Ratifying Wheat Agreement
Philadelphia, July 10—(P)—Democratic platform writers prepared today to blast the GOP for "wrecking" a trade pact designed to assure wheat farmers a big market abroad.

They say this will be a big blow to the farmers in view of possible agricultural surpluses.

A tentatively approved farm plank charges the Republican Congress with tossing away an assured annual overseas market for at least 185,000,000 bushels of the bread grain during the next five years.

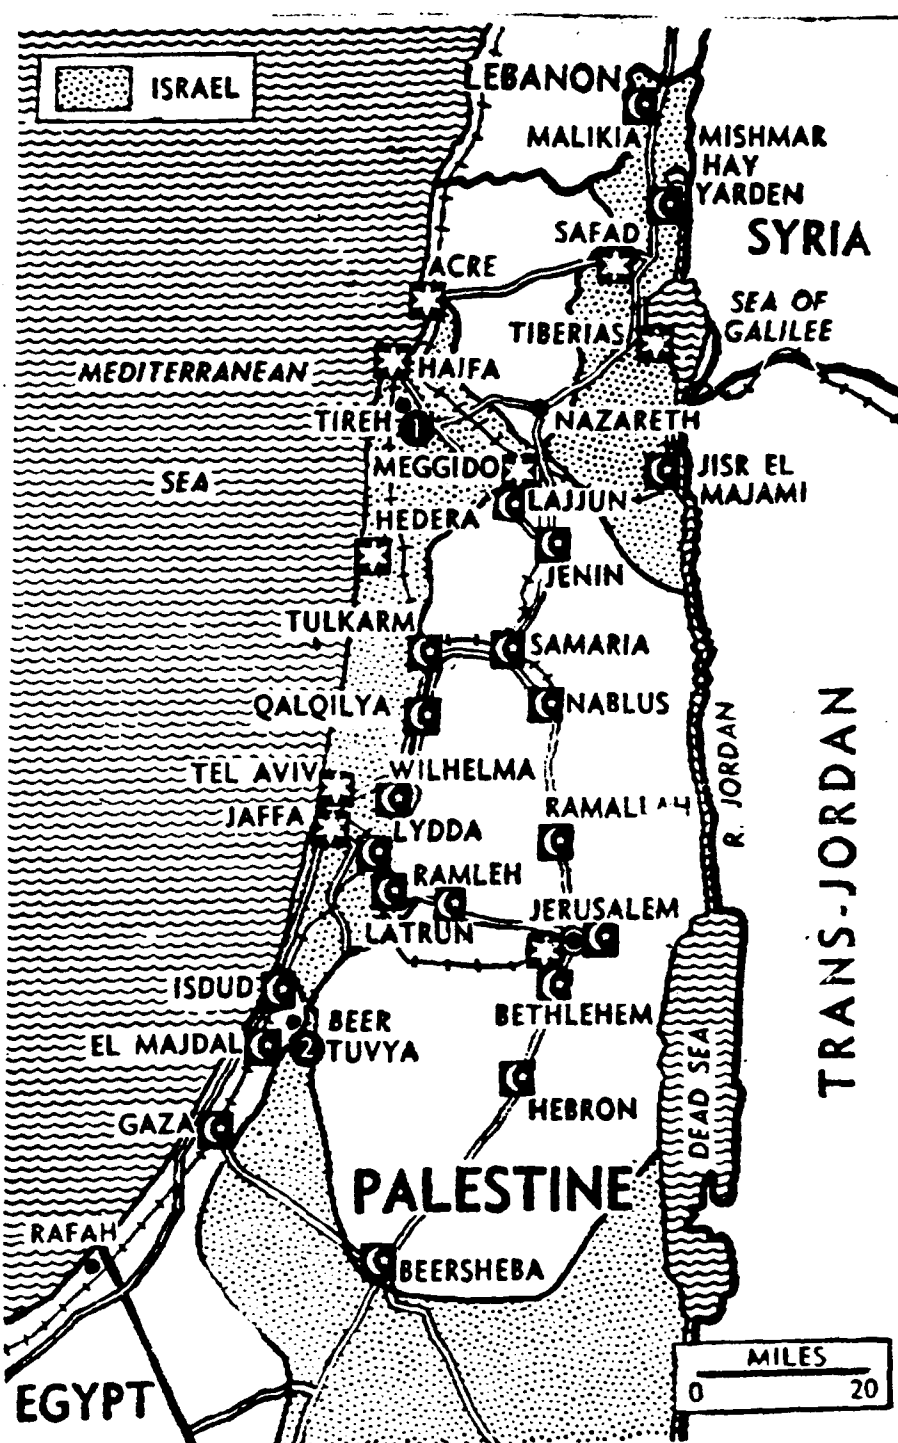

The plank refers to failure of the Senate to ratify a 36-nation international wheat agreement, drafted early this year after more than a dozen years of on-again-off-again negotiations.

Because the United States failed to ratify the pact, Great Britain—one of the major wheat importing nations—formally withdrew from it this week. Some other importing countries have followed suit.

Mexican Papers' Comment On Crash Spurs U. S. Note
Mexico City, July 10—(P)—U.S. Ambassador Walter Thurston today personally handed to foreign secretary Torres Bodet a note expressing regret at Mexican newspaper comment on presence of Americans at the scene of a plane crash.

The note spoke of the expressed resentment of newspapers at actions of U.S. personnel and the presence of seven armed U.S. air force men at the scene of a plane wreck July 2 in which 16 men were killed, eight Americans and eight Mexicans.

Truce-End Palestine Map

Red Rejection Of Demands Means Expensive Struggle

By John M. Hightower
Washington, July 10—(P)—The United States, Britain and France appeared certain today to be in for a long, costly and dangerous struggle to maintain themselves in Berlin if Russia rejects their demand to lift the blockade of the city.

Both Washington and London expect a prompt answer from Moscow. Officials in the western capitals were reported sticking close to their telephones this week-end in anticipation of a reply.

The major point which the three western nations sought to make in their notes to the Kremlin was that they would not be compelled to leave the city by any threats, menacing actions or pressures.

Only Starts Problem
Officials here in the diplomatic as in the military branches of the government concede that the proclamation of a decision to remain in the German capital is only the beginning of a problem.

At the moment the western powers have succeeded by history's greatest feat in peacetime air transport operation in delivering into Berlin a daily average of more food than the people there, by daily average, consume. They have not, however, been able to deliver all the coal which western Berlin requires.

National Deficit For New Fiscal Year Indicated
Washington, July 10—(P)—Prospects are that President Truman will advise the country late this month that the government is going to run in the red this year after two years solidly in the black.

Informed officials said today the government spending figure for the fiscal year which began July 1 will jump to about $42,000,000,000 when the present revision of January budget estimates is completed. The President's January estimate was $39,700,000,000.

Meanwhile, the $4,600,000,000 tax cut—which Mr. Truman is expected to blame chiefly for throwing the government in the red—should cut the revenue estimate down a little below $40,000,000,000. The January forecast was $44,500,000,000.

Actual government spending thus would exceed income by more than $2,000,000,000 between now and next June 30—a period including five months of the presidential term at which both Mr. Truman and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican nominee, are aiming.

CHESTER PRINCIPAL QUILTS

Hollywood, July 10—(P)—James Baskett, 44, one of the nation's outstanding negro actors and an academy award winner for his role of Uncle Remus in Walt Disney's "Song of the South," died yesterday.

Jews Claim Advances As Truce Hopes Dim

New Soviet Highway Curbs Tighten Squeeze On Berlin

By George Bria
Berlin, July 10—(P)—New Russian bars on the highway exit from Berlin tonight all but marooned western allied nationals in the city. Americans said they would not submit to any new restrictions.

The air corridor became almost the only link between Berlin and the British zone 120 miles to the west. British authorities cancelled all leaves for their garrison. The Americans announced that leaves would be granted to their personnel only if they obtain seats on commercial airplanes.

Predict Unfavorable Replies
Need Soviet Permit
The British-American action followed a Russian announcement in their official press that westbound allied traffic out of Berlin from now on would be permitted only on special permits issued by the Soviets.

The Russian announcement was read to Maj. Gen. George P. Hays, U. S. deputy military governor, over the telephone.

Highway travel to Berlin from the west has been stopped since June 18 when the Russians closed the road in the wake of the currency reform for western Germany.

The U. S. Airforce again out-did the 1,000 ton mark, flying 1,025 tons of supplies in 202 sorties for the 24-hour period ending at 9 a. m. E.S.T. The British made 187 flights.

Name Wisconsin Eighth-Grader 'Ideal 4-H Girl'
Mukwonago, Wis., July 10—(P)—Eleven-year-old Judy Stewart, her rusty piglets flying, was getting ready today to leave for Hollywood and a screen test.

The bright-eyed eighth grader learned from a newspaper picture last night that her photograph had been picked from 10,000 entries as an "Ideal 4-H Girl" for a forthcoming film.

Somehow identification of Judy had been misplaced, when her picture was chosen. The studio announced a screen test awaited the winner if she could be found.

Mrs. Clarence Isley, Judy's 4-H club leader, saw the news picture and informed the studio it was Judy's.

Judy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stewart, were more excited about the development than was their youngest daughter.

"It's the brains that won for her," Mrs. Isley declared. "Judy wanted to have them cut off."

"They get in the way," Judy explained.

Filipino Heoine Arrives In U.S. For Leprosy Cure
San Francisco, July 10—(P)—Josefina Guerrero, Filipino war heroine, arrived in America today to receive a strange reward.

Some 300 people saw the 30-year-old winner of the U. S. Medal of Freedom almost overwhelmed by her greeting. As flashbulbs popped and army officers came forward saluting and bowing, all she could say was "this more than I expected."

Her arms were full of flowers and gifts.

Some of those who met her were soldiers she had aided when they were imprisoned by the Japanese in the Philippines. Others were members of lay and religious groups who helped gain her a curious distinction—the first foreign victim of leprosy ever allowed to enter this country for treatment. She is here by special order of Attorney General Tom C. Clark.

An air force plane was waiting at nearby Hamilton Field today to take her to Carville, La., site of the National Leprosarium.

Arabs Refuse 10-Day Truce Extension

By Max Boyd
Cario, July 10—AP—Jewish troops stormed and captured Lydda Airport, a major prize of the Palestine war, today, and the Arabs announced they would not agree to a new 10-day truce.

Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary-general of the Arab League said the Arab countries could not accept the proposal for another cease-fire made by Count Folke Bernadotte, the United Nations mediator. He said the Arabs could not even agree to a three-day truce extension.

Accepted Conditionally
The Israeli government accepted the 10-day extension on condition that the Arabs would do likewise.

The Jewish army said its military operations were continuing satisfactorily and announced that Lydda airport had been captured from the Arabs in a surprise raid early today. Israeli spokesmen indicated their forces had held the key air base against an Arab counter-attack this afternoon.

Arab and Jewish planes were thrown into the growing fight. Jewish source said Israeli bombers attacked the village of Kuneitra, about 12 miles across the Syrian border, which was reported to be one of the main Syrian supply bases for an attempted drive into western Galilee.

Mortars Blast Convents
The Jews also said Israeli fighters had shot down a Syrian bomber near Mishmar Hayarden, an Arab-held village south of Lake Hula.

In Jerusalem, a furious attack by Jewish mortars struck at Christian convents and a hospital on the Way of Sorrows, where Christ carried his cross. A Jewish mortar shell killed one Armenian woman, and wounded another when it hit the Armenian convent of Saint James near the Zion gate.

The first word that the Jews had accepted the 10-day truce plan came at Lake Success when Israel informed the U.N. it would agree, provided the Arabs agreed.

The Jews also reported the capture of several Arab villages near Lydda airport. One was the former German settlement of Wilhelms, founded about 50 years ago commemorating Kaiser Wilhelm's visit to Palestine. After 1933 it was one of Hitler's Swastika strongholds in the Middle East.

Tel Aviv Bombed
Air raid sirens sounded in the Jewish capital of Tel Aviv five times this morning. Some small bombs were dropped by unidentified spitfires but no casualties were reported.

Lydda airport is a strategic prize. British forces left Lydda when they gave up their mandate May 15. The Arabs moved in. The field is less than 15 miles southeast of Tel Aviv, just on the U.N.-proposed border between Jewish and Arab territory.

A Jewish government spokesman said Jewish troops killed 300 Egyptians and captured 200 in a battle near Isdud, 25 miles south of Tel Aviv. The Egyptian defense ministry said last night that 325 Jewish soldiers were killed yesterday in the coastal plain area below Isdud.

Engineer Is Hero When Steam Pipe In Engine Bursts
Chicago, July 10—(P)—An engineer stuck to his throttle today when a steam pipe burst in the locomotive cab of his fast freight, thus preventing a possible wreck or derailment.

The engineer was Charles Brannenburgh of Garrett, Ind., an engineer for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

The pipe burst as the train was speeding through the southside near 90th street and South park avenue. The steam first enveloped the fireman, Russell DeMint, 45, of Avilla, Ind.

Brannenburgh shouted to DeMint to jump when he did. The engineer, meanwhile, cut the throttle and set the emergency brakes. He jumped himself as the train slowed to a stop.

Brannenburgh was uninjured but DeMint was severely burned and suffered leg injuries. He was taken to South Shore hospital.

Embarrassed U. S. Should Make Good on UN Home Loan

The United Nations was left in an embarrassing situation when Congress adjourned without approving the $65,000,000 loan to finance a UN skyscraper home in Manhattan. So was the City of New York, which has the job of providing municipal services. And even more embarrassed is Uncle Sam, whose willingness to keep his promises is put in doubt.

Apparently nobody of consequence proposed seriously that we back down on our agreement to make the loan. The matter just got caught in a bit of political jockeying that some, undoubtedly of suspicious mind, think was aimed at influencing the Republicans' choice of a presidential candidate.

The big site for the UN capitol has been acquired and cleared, and is waiting for construction crews. Until the money is provided, it waits in mute reproach of Congress.

In the first place it was not utterly vital that the United Nations make their home in this country, and it mattered much less whether it was in New York or elsewhere.

Once the U. S. was selected, however, a specific site for the capitol acquired, and the loan promised, it became very vital that we make good. It seems desirable that the UN's work be carried on in the relatively democratic atmosphere of a country like ours, but that is a secondary consideration.

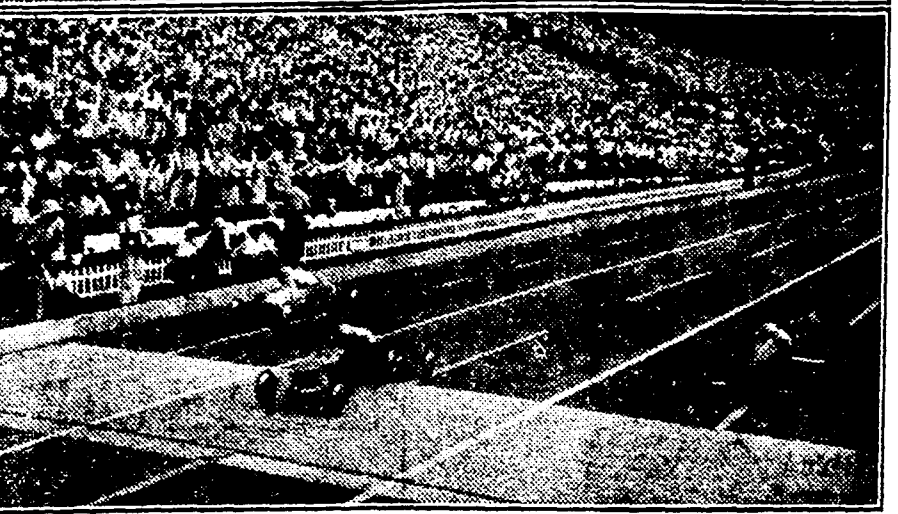

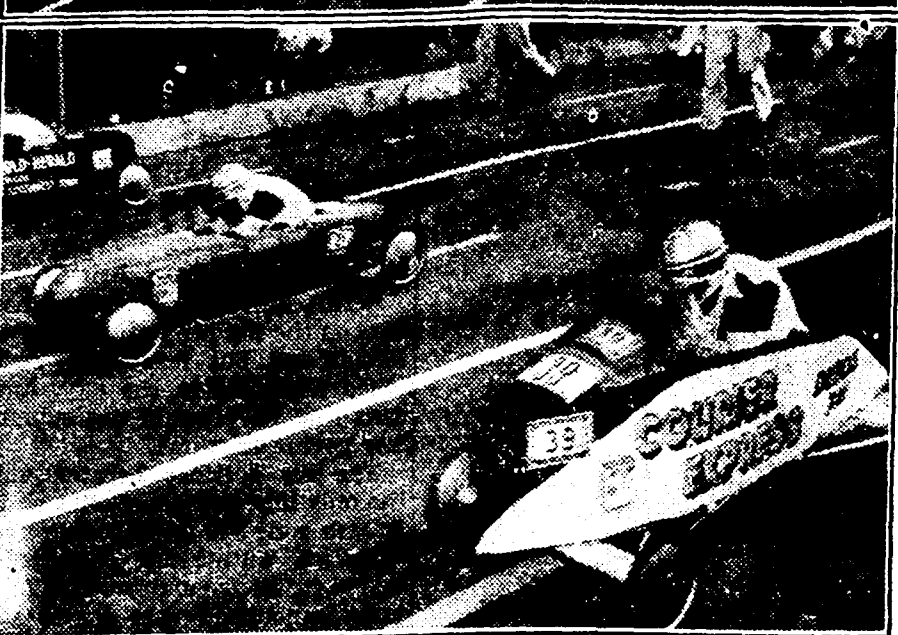

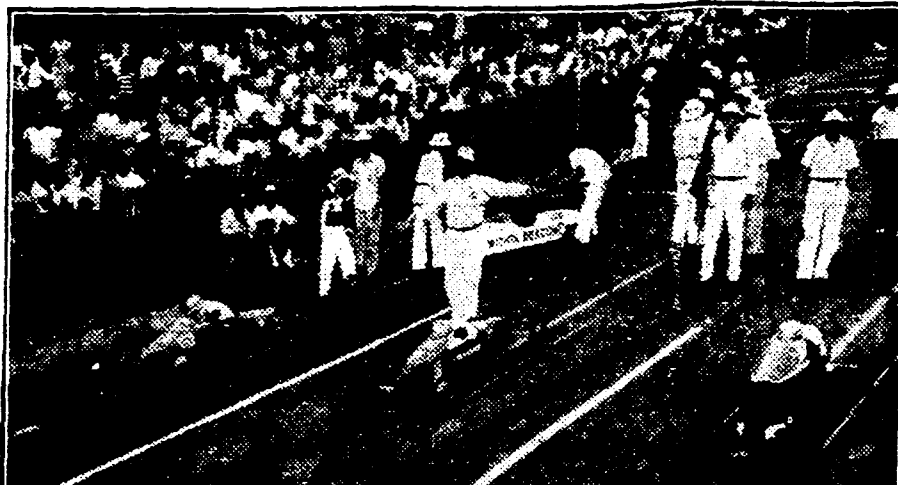

The United Nations has had some tough sledding. Oversold by its enthusiastic partisans, it has been utterly unable to do things expected of it but for which it never was fitted. The world peace and unity that it was to help keep have never been established. It has to struggle on, doing the best it can to keep alive and alert, while it waits for the Soviet bloc and the "western" or "democratic" bloc to reconcile their differences or fight them out, so the UN can begin functioning.

If the capital were to be moved to Geneva or elsewhere for the nations' convenience, or because they lack dollars to maintain staffs here, or for some similar mechanical reason, no important damage might be done. But it would be tragic and perhaps fatal if the UN were to leave these shores because it had concluded that the world of the United States in international affairs was no good.

The world's fate depends on us. It depends in large part on the world's ability to work with us and trust us. It depends upon the world's confidence in that ability. Anything that can be used by our enemies to make it appear that the world can't do business with the U. S. is a weapon against world peace.

It would seem that congressional leaders have a prime responsibility to work out with the White House and the United Nations some guaranty against which the UN can get money to start building its New York capitol. Given firm enough assurances there must be those who would lend the money until Congress meets and appropriates it.

Highfill-Bourke Rites Held At Church Here

Ceremony Unites Local Girl And Witt Young Man

White gladioli, ferns and candelabra provided the background for the informal afternoon wedding of Miss Betty Highfill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Highfill, 1027 Mathers street, and George Bourke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paisley Bourke of Witt, Ill.

The double-ring ceremony was performed at 2 p.m. by the Rev. Robert J. Campbell before relatives and friends in Centenary Methodist church.

Mrs. Lois Hardin, soloist, sang "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Miss Myrtle Laimore, organist. Mrs. George Wyatt of White Hall served as matron of honor for her sister, and Frank Cirzan of Chicago attended the bride groom as best man. Ushers were George Wyatt, brother-in-law of the bride, and Paisley Bourke, the bridegroom's father.

Wears White Costume

A dressmaker suit of white palm beach cloth fashioned with gold trim was worn by the bride. Her off-face hat and accessories were white and her flowers pink carnations. Mrs. Wyatt chose a costume of dusky rose, with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

White gladioli centered the bride's table at the reception held in the home of the bride's parents immediately after the ceremony. A three-tiered wedding cake, cut by the bride couple, was served by Miss Viola Lawson, Miss Margaret McLain and Miss Claris Carter.

Mrs. Highfill was attired in aqua with which she wore black accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a black print, white accessories. Both mothers had corsages of white carnations.

Back From Trip

Mr. Bourke and his bride have returned from a short wedding trip and are residing at 1027 Mathers street.

Mrs. Bourke was graduated from Jacksonville high school in 1945 and is now employed at the Illinois Telephone company. Her husband was graduated from Witt high school with the class of 1942. He served with the U.S. Navy for 33 months and is now attending Illinois College where he is a member of the junior class.

Don't risk it. It's cheaper and safer to drive in now for our Precision Wheel Alignment Service. We'll check the steering-gear, assembly, inspect front-end alignment and make precision adjustment, balance front wheel assemblies, equalize pressure in tires.

Oregon Youth, 17, Admits Theft Of Truck Here

William Frederick Brown, 17, of Portland, Ore., admitted Friday that he stole a delivery truck belonging to the Producers Dairy Co. from in back of the dairy here Sunday night, July 4. The statement was made in the presence of state police at Macon, Mo., and Wayne Bottom, manager of the dairy, who had gone to Missouri to recover the stolen truck.

The state of Missouri will prefer charges against the youth on four counts of attempted robbery and the F.B.I. will handle the case involving the theft of the local vehicle, a Dyer Act violation.

According to Bottom, Brown stated that he stole the truck here shortly before midnight Sunday. From here he went to Barry where he stole a quantity of paint from a store there. Brown then completely repainted the truck and lettered it with the name "Edwards Fender and Body Shop, Tarkio, Mo." a fictitious firm.

When asked why he chose the name Edwards and the town of Tarkio, Brown said Edwards was the first name that came to his mind and Tarkio was the name of the first town he found on a map of Missouri.

Bottom reports that the youth did a good job of repainting the truck, considering he had only a brush to work with.

The youth was apprehended following an attempt to rob a store in a small town in Missouri, near Brookfield. A resident near the store saw Brown in the store and called police. When the officers arrived he had gone but he was captured shortly after in the truck on the highway near Brookfield. He was lodged in the county jail at Macon, Mo., pending trial.

Bottom stated the truck was not damaged. Brown told Bottom that he stole a tire in Missouri to replace one that blew out on the truck. Bottom returned to Jacksonville with the vehicle Friday evening.

When asked how he happened to be in Jacksonville, Brown said he was hitchhiking east from Portland and needing transportation, decided to steal the truck here.

It is not known when or where his making originated.

Electricity is "made to measure" for your needs

When you turn on an electric light or appliance, electricity of the "correct size"—in volts and watts—"makes it work."
It sounds simple. But to bring electric power to your home or business required scores of skilled employees, countless miles of wires, tons of complex equipment—such as the big transformers shown.
Our plans for improving our services require more skilled manpower and much new equipment—especially transformers. But both continue scarce. Yet, as always, we endeavor to render the best service possible in the face of these continued difficulties.

Power is sent across country in heavy wires that carry extra-high voltage. For use in homes, stores or factories, this voltage must be "cut down to size" for safe use, by huge, heavy-duty transformers. The 50,000 Kw transformer illustrated is used, with others, throughout our system.

Red Cross Chapter Gives Relief Aid To Storm Victims

Mr. W. H. Kurtz, chairman of the local Red Cross chapter disaster committee made the following report concerning assistance given families who suffered losses from the hail and wind storm which hit the community June 14.

A total of $517.57 was spent for roofing materials, a grocery order and tractor oil for sixteen families. This assistance is based on the need of the individual family.

The assistance given for roofing materials totaled $390.71. It was spread through fifteen families. One family suffered a tremendous crop loss, Mr. Kurtz said. This family received tractor oil totalling $101.86, and also a $25 grocery order.

The Morgan county chapter will receive reimbursement for this expenditure from national Red Cross headquarters. The plan here is that national headquarters reimburse in each disaster wherein more than five families are involved.

Mr. Kurtz and Dr. Ralph Griebler, Red Cross representative for the local chapter, made a survey of the community immediately following the storm. Dr. Griebler took all applications for assistance and made many of the investigations.

High School Grads Take Advantage Of Service Schools

Recent draft legislation has stimulated interest in the armed forces. S. Sgt. Joe Dodds stated that an increasing number of prospective draftees have been taking advantage of the Army's technical schools before the draft legislation goes into effect.

One of the more popular plans is the high school graduate technical school plan. This works as follows: The high school graduate chooses three schools he would like to attend. These choices are sent to Commanding Headquarters, and one of them is approved.

The application is sent back to the local recruiting office. If the applicant wishes to enlist, he is guaranteed the school of his choice as approved by the Commanding General.

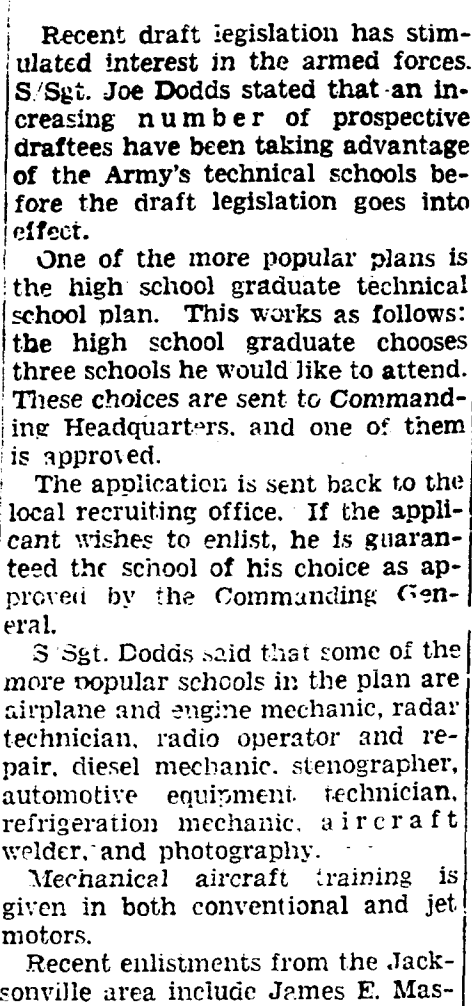

S. Sgt. Dodds said that some of the more popular schools in the plan are airplane and engine mechanic, radar technician, radio operator and repair, diesel mechanic, stenographer, automotive equipment technician, refrigeration mechanic, aircraft welder, and photography.

Mechanical aircraft training is given in both conventional and jet motors.

Recent enlistments from the Jacksonville area include James E. Masterson, 17 Bluff's USAF, three years; Wayne Masterson, USAF, three years; Roger D. Walker, 17, USAF, three years; Winchester, and John W. Green, 402 Hardin, Jacksonville 17, coast artillery corps.

USAF trainees were sent to Lackland Air Force base, San Antonio, Texas, and Army trainees were sent to Ft. Knox, Ky.

Sorry Saga Of Sad Sergeant

By The Fish Editor

First Sergeant Robert Newport tells the saddest story of the year—or the biggest.

"You see," says the sergeant, "I went fishing at Lake Jacksonville. Every time I threw my line in, a fish grabbed it. And they were not little fish. They were great big ones."

At this point the sergeant extended his arms far apart. This, no doubt, constituted the size of the fish.

"Well, Sgt. what happened then?" we query.

The sergeant got a far away look in his eye, the very same look sergeants get when assigning a private with a three day pass to K. P. Sympathy personified.

"There must have been dozens in my boat. I went to get out of the boat. I grabbed the fish bucket by the handle. The handle broke. The fish got away."

"All of them?" we asked.

"No," says the sergeant. "I salvaged one. And it was the smallest of the lot."

The conversation was too sad to continue. We wiped a huge tear from our eye and walked sadly away leaving the sergeant with his one fish.

Exchange Club Will Entertain Forty Six Derby Contestants

Forty-six aspirants for the crown of Soap Box Derby champion will be guests of the Exchange club Monday evening. The Exchange club will entertain the boys at a banquet to be held at the Dunlap hotel at 6:30 p. m.

Many boys, he said, make the mistake of destroying their racers after the race. If they would tear down their cars to correct defects in them, they would improve their chances to win the next year, he concluded.

Injuries, Hot Words Hurt All-Stars

St. Louis, July 10.—(P)—Injuries and hot words today seared the American league's chances against the National league in major league baseball's annual all-star game here Tuesday.

Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, the junior circuit's top hitter, sat out today's game between Boston and the Philadelphia Athletics because of pulled cartilage in his side. He may not be able to play Tuesday.

At Washington Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees, also was on the bench, hoping that his tender heels would permit him to play in the annual dream game on Tuesday.

Harris Blasts Feller
These two last minute developments, however, were nothing compared to the blast of Manager Stanley "Bucky" Harris of the Yankees, who will pilot the American leaguers, when informed that Cleveland speed baller Bobby Feller had withdrawn from the squad.

Harris said that as long as he was connected with the all-star selections Feller never would receive another bid.

A Cleveland club spokesman said that Feller, who withdrew last year because of a claimed sore back, had

Aurora Prep Star Enrolls At I.C.; Sports Briefs

By John Campbell
White Hall.—(Special)—The outstanding East Aurora high school star, Joe Timok, has decided to enroll at Illinois college this fall. He is a star baseball pitcher at Aurora.

Another enrollee at I. C. will be William "Red" Crain, 1948 graduate of White Hall high school and a navy veteran. He will report for football, seeking a quarterback berth.

Carlinville high school will play on the White Hall floor for the first time next basketball season. White Hall lost to the Cavaliers at Carlinville last season and defeated them in regional tournament play in 1936.

Coach Glen Smith of Pittsfield plans to take his Sauekes to Columbia, Mo., for a cage tilt next winter. Peoria Woodruff is another new appointment on the slate, playing at Pittsfield.

Lawrence "Sam" Ballard, star all-around athlete for Coach Mason Campbell at Roodhouse high school, is assisting with a barn-spraying outfit. Ballard was selected for full-back position on the third All-State football team last season by the Chicago Daily News board of coaches.

Vincent Reagor, holder of the all-time pole vault record at Roodhouse, is a painter. Don Reagor, brother of Vincent, is in the army and has high jumped over six feet in the past season.

Dick Ridings, outstanding sophomore star at Carrollton, has entered service. He won the Greene county low hurdles title in 1946 and was a fine football and basketball performer for Coach Bill Jackson.

Coach S. N. Walker of White Hall has taken athletes to the state track and field meet all four years he has been at the Greene county school. Roscoe "Skeeter" Orten of his 1947 team won third place in the 880 yard run and won that event for Illinois State Normal university during his freshman season.

Middletown Man Marks 79th Year With 24-Mile Walk

Springfield, Ill., July 10.—(P)—For the 10th straight year, John H. Keest, Sr., celebrated his birthday—this time his 79th—by walking the 24 miles from his Middletown, Ill., home to Springfield.

Beads of perspiration stood on the brow of the wiry, white haired Keest when he arrived today with the temperature at about 90 degrees. He pulled off his 30-year-old Panama hat, asked for a glass of cold water and exclaimed:

"My gosh darned feet. My feet are sore, oh boy. I wore the wrong shoes."

Keest said he should have put on a pair of heavy work shoes, instead of oxford shoes in golf shoes, when he started out at 2 a.m. (CST). Hampered by his bulky footgear, Keest took eight hours to make the trip, 90 minutes longer than usual. He carried his accustomed gamut of hickory walking stick.

He caught a bus back to Middletown.

Army Plans 3,500 New Housing Units

Washington, July 10.—(P)—The army and air force plan to build 3,500 family housing units with part of the $15,000,000 construction fund appropriated by the last congress.

A joint announcement today by Army Secretary Royall and Air Secretary Symington said about $4,000,000 will be used for family type housing here and overseas.

DISTRICT TOURNEY OPENS AT MACOMB

Macomb.—(Special)—Ten teams open competition here Sunday night for the title of the Amateur Softball Association's district tourney and the right to advance to Jacksonville for the sectional playoffs.

Entrants include: Rod and Gun club (Beardstown); Wells Lamont corporation (Beardstown); Keigwin Poultry Farm (Bushnell); Macomb Livestock Buyers; Glass Bar (Havana); Critic Field (Beardstown); Macomb Bruine; Arenaville Merchants; Western College All Stars (Macomb); and the Macomb Dodgers.

By Charles Bellatti
We hate to bring this up again, but we've had another communication concerning the Jay Cee Girls-Madison Furniture company game at Springfield, June 20.

Russell Cole, Jay-Cee manager, relates that Marge Snyder, local girl hurler for Madison, allowed six runs in the first two innings, then put two runners on base in the seventh. Those two runs were, of course, charged to Snyder and proved to be the winning runs.

Four walks, three hits an error accounted for the runs in the first two frames. A hit and an error put the runners on base in the seventh.

Incidentally, the two girls' teams, bitter enemies for the last two years, are scheduled to tangle again at Nichols Park diamond on Wednesday night. It should be a game well worth watching.

A few fortunate Jacksonville fans are making plans to attend the All-Star baseball game in St. Louis next Tuesday. Tickets were, as might be expected, scarce. We're mighty sorry that the couldn't begin to take care of requests for tickets which reached our desk. It was only through a personal friend that we were able to get tickets for our own party of four.

Speaking of All-Star games, the Illinois State league came up with a nifty idea. They're staging a game between the league leaders and an all-star team from other members of the loop at Mattson Monday night. The nifty idea comes in the date, which will enable them to get many basketball notables to attend on the way to St. Louis.

The Mattson farm club of the Cleveland Indians has announced a Cleveland trout camp at the Mattson park July 12 through July 14. Players are asked to bring their own uniforms, shoes and gloves. All players signed will be reimbursed for their expenses. Indian Scout Walter Laskowski will be in charge.

Among those from this area who attended the clinic at Western Illinois State college last Thursday are: Maurice Root, Mt. Sterling; Art Bergstrom, Bradley U.; Elmer Beardsley, Ashland; Bob Grove, Illinois college; Sam Spink, Illinois college; Eddie Willard, Griggsville; Dale Pittenger, Winchester; J. H. Stark, Pearl; Al Miller, Illinois college; Jim Spink, Jacksonville; and Clyde Baulos, Jacksonville.

Verdeur, Curtis Pace Swimmers In Olympic Trials

Detroit, July 10.—(P)—Philadelphia Joe Verdeur and California's Curtis, 22-year-old collegians, best Olympic records today in tests at River Rouge park for berths on the American swimming team leaving next week for the 1948 games in London.

Verdeur set an American long-course (50-meter) record for the men's 200-meter breast stroke at 2 minutes 36.3 seconds to win his place on the American team. His time was 6.2 seconds better than the mark set at the 1936 Berlin Olympics by Tetsuo Hamuro of Japan.

Keith Carter of Purdue University, already a member of the London-bound team as the result of winning second in the 100-meter free style finals two days ago, chased Verdeur to the finish touch in second place, and will swim in two races—breast-stroke and free style—at the London Wembley pool competitions opening July 29.

Third and last place to qualify for the London Olympics in the breast stroke went to Bob Soh of the University of Michigan.

Miss Curtis beat the Olympic 400-meter free style record for women without half trying in preliminary competition. The University of California junior co-ed was timed at 5 minutes 25.9 seconds, half a second faster than the mark made by Hendrika Maestebroek of Holland at the Berlin games in 1936.

Baseball Merchants Play Here Today

The Jacksonville Merchants baseball team is slated for another home M.S.C. league game this afternoon, facing the Mercedia nine in a 2 p.m. combat, at Illinois college's Russell Field.

The Merchants are undefeated in league play and have a good chance for the championship. Mercedia, with one of the better clubs in the loop, offers a stiff challenge.

No charge is made for admission to the tilt.

BUCKLEY-DOYLE MEET TODAY

Joe Doyle and Jim Buckley meet in the championship match of the Nichols Park open golf tournament today. The pair will tee off for 18 holes at 9 a. m. and will return to the fairways to complete their match at 1:30 p. m.

Title matches will also be played in three other flights. Three trophies will be awarded in each flight.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Former Columbian Bill Vessie does six feet six-and-a-half inches to tie New York AC teammate John Vislocky in the high jump of the Metropolitan AAU Senior Championships at Randall's Island Stadium, but appears a bit apprehensive about coming down.

Olympic Trials Bring Upsets, Good Marks

Evanston, Ill., July 10.—(P)—Two the 100 meter dash but quit in despair in the hurdle final.

Despite these blows head Coach Dean Cromwell was happy and confident. "We will win seven or eight firsts for sure," he said, and named a total of 14 events in which America has good chances.

Long-tripping, Mel Patton from the University of Southern California won the 200 meter final by a yard from Ewell, the 31-year-old Penn State alumnus, to reverse the order of finish in yesterday's 100 meter dash. Thus both became double qualifiers and both showed performances in line with the great sprint traditions of the United States.

Patton won the 200 in 20.7, which equals the unofficial world record for the race around a curve. Ewell's 100 meter time was 10.2, which also equals the world mark.

In all, 33 places were filled in 11 final tryout events before a crowd of 20,000 in Dwyer Stadium, rounding out the team which comprises three athletes for each of 22 track and field events, plus two relay teams. The weather was hot and muggy, but the athletes performed with zeal.

Jay Cee Girls Beat Decatur 9 Here Saturday

The Jay Cee girls softball team overcame a 6-2 deficit with a seven-run sixth inning Saturday night at Nichols Park to repulse the Butterfield cafe of Decatur, 9-6.

Although receiving five-hit pitching from Bert Lauder, the Jacksonville team committed six costly errors which aided in Decatur scoring. Three hits and four errors were combined by the visitors for five runs in the second inning. They scored again in the sixth on two hits and a pair of errors.

Just as they had victory within the reach, the Decatur girls blew sky high, committing five errors which were combined with as many hits for seven runs in that fatal bottom sixth. Previously the hosts had gotten their first two runs in the fifth on two hits and two errors.

Sullivan, Decatur chucker, held the Jay Cee team to three hits during the first five innings. Lauder yielded three in the second and two in the sixth. Sullivan issued the only walk of the game.

Big blow for the Jay Cee girls was L. Hubbard's circuit clout in the sixth with two men on. Henderson hit a homer with one on in the second for Decatur. Both were inside the park.

AMVETS, SQUIRES TAKE VICTORIES

The Amvets defeated the American Legion, 12-7, and the Squires triumphed over the Murrayville Flyers 17-13 in Jacksonville Recreation club junior softball league games at the high school diamond Friday night.

Curtis clouted a homer for the Murrayville team, the only extra-base blow of the evening.

On Wednesday night the Amvets won over the Legion 24-9 and the Squires downed Murrayville 24-13. Day of the Amvets and Squires of the Squires homered.

Open New Pipeline Near Pakota, Ill.

Pakota, Ill., July 10.—(P)—Opening of the longest 20-inch pipeline built since the war was celebrated today near this Southern Illinois village.

The 650-mile line, built privately by the Magnolia Pipe Line Co. of Dallas, Texas, terminal to the mid-west.

J. Monroe Johnson, director of the office of defense transportation, in an address celebrated the opening of the line, called it "a momentous and outstanding stride toward peace and, if we must, for war."

The new pipe, equal in capacity to the famed "big inch" built by the government during the war, brings Magnolia's total mileage to 8,670 miles. Actual construction was completed within a year.

AMVETS, SQUIRES TAKE VICTORIES

The Amvets defeated Murrayville, 18-14, and the Columbia Squires won by forfeit over the American Legion in Recreation club junior softball league games at the high school field Saturday night.

Chapman's homer with two on helped the Amvets to their victory. The games were make-up tilts from earlier in the year.

Brooklyn Blasts Way Into First Division

New York, July 10.—(P)—The Brooklyn Dodgers today moved into the first division in the National League pennant race for the first time since mid-May.

Leo Durocher's defending champions trounced the Giants, 15-10, and took over fourth place from the stumbling New Yorkers.

Trailing, 6-5 going into the seventh inning, the Dodgers staged a seven-run rally to clinch the decision. Jackie Robinson highlighted the uprising with a three-run inside the park home run.

The Giants employed seven pitchers with only Paul Erickson, who pitched the ninth, holding the Dodgers hitless. The Giants collected 12 hits off four Brooklyn hurlers including homers by Whitey Lockman and Walker Cooper.

St. Louis, July 10.—(P)—Johnny Vander Meer held the St. Louis Cardinals to five hits through six innings, then worked out of a three-run seventh inning uprising to salvage a 4 to 3 victory for the Cincinnati Reds tonight. Kramer Stops A's 4-0; Yanks, Tigers Win Close Games

Philadelphia, July 10.—(P)—Jack Kramer, who appears to have found himself after a slow start with the Boston Red Sox, won his seventh straight game today shutting out the Philadelphia Athletics 4 to 0.

The former world series ace of the St. Louis Browns gave up 10 hits, but was tight in the clutches and choked off a half-dozen budding rallies by the Athletics to score his ninth victory against three losses.

By losing, the A's dropped a half-game behind first place Cleveland. Kramer was staked to a four-run lead in the opening inning when Vern Stephens cracked his 17th home run of the year with two mates on base. A moment later Bobby Doerr connected for his 15th circuit smash. And that ended the scoring for the day.

White Sox Edged, 5-4
Detroit, July 10.—(P)—The Detroit Tigers scored early and then held on tight against numerous Chicago White Sox threats to win their sixth ball game in a row today, 5-4.

Dizzy Trout was the winner, but old Diz was lifted from the game in the eighth inning after allowing eight hits and six bases on balls. Art Houtteman took over and barely hung on throughout a lively White Sox rally in the ninth to protect Trout's ninth victory of the season.

It was one of the most futile games of the year for the Sox. They made 11 hits, received six bases on balls and profited twice by Tiger errors. But, scoring only four times, they left 17 men stranded.

Yanks Win 10th

Washington, July 10.—(P)—Johnny Lindell singled with the bases loaded and none out in the tenth inning today to spark the New York Yankees to a 5-2 victory over the Washington Senators.

The blow drove in two runs and enabled Vic Raschi, who began the frame with a walk, to gain his 10th victory of the year as against three defeats. Mickey Haefer was charged with the loss.

Girl Electrocuted In Thunderstorm

Chicago, July 10.—(P)—An 18-year-old girl was electrocuted today as she sought shelter under a tree during a thunderstorm.

Joan Hayes, who graduated last month from high school, had gone to a Lake Michigan beach when a sudden electrical storm swept over the city's south side and neighboring Indiana cities.

Witnesses told police a bolt of lightning struck the girl as she and a friend huddled beneath a tree. Miss Hayes was hurled several feet into the air and was burned severely about the neck, where she wore a charm necklace.

CRIME DOESN'T PAY: NEITHER DOES LAW

Bangkok.—(P)—When you call a policeman in Bangkok, be sure you get a $2 a month man, not a two-bit one. One group joins the force voluntarily. There make 30 ticals a month. That's slightly less than two U. S. dollars. The rest of the force, about 6,600, are conscripts assigned by the Army. They are paid four ticals a month—about 25 cents.

The police director-general, Major General Luang Chatrakarn Kool, says this disparity in pay makes the conscripts unsatisfactory policemen. He asked the finance ministry for

Weekend Warriors Begin Maneuvers From Glenview

Chicago, July 10.—(P)—Brig. Gen. Christian F. Schilt and his "weekend warriors" from the Glenview Naval Air Base take off today for the marine corps reserve maneuvers at Cherry Point, N. C.

General Schilt, a Medal of Honor winner and chief of marine reserve flying, will travel in a four-engine transport, a staff of 17 officers and 25 enlisted men from his headquarters at Glenview.

Altogether, 18 Corsair fighter planes and six twin and four-engine transports will make the flight.

Except for General Schilt's party, all the participants in the flight are "weekend warriors," so called because they are civilians except on alternate Sundays.

On those days they gather at Glenview on a dither combined navy and marine reserve air fields to perfect their flying skill, their knowledge of air plane weapons, tactics and planning.

THE STORY: Playboy Marcus Sterling has stolen his wife's diamond necklace and handed it over to a security on a $10,000 gambling debt to racketeer Harry Blinde. To cover the theft, he has also taken a sealed packet from his wife's safe. This Marcus discovers later. In $10,000 in cash which Miriam had withdrawn from the bank to give him. Next morning, Police Lt. Talent arrives at the Sterling household. Sgt. Gable shows him over the disarranged library.

Talent noticed that a cluster of wall lights at one side of the arched doorway leading into the hall "glowed brightly."

"You put on those lights?" Talent asked Gable.

"No. They was on."

"Oh! Well, maybe the maid."

Talent was cataloging the room. "Three of these chairs sat in since the cushions were straightened," he said. "That seemed to be primarily for Ripley, whose pencil stub was busily engaged. Talent poked a long finger cautiously into the ashtray, heaped with cigarette butts, beside one of the chairs. "Whoever sat here must have been a chain smoker," he commented. "Ain't that?"

Talent crossed to the chair beside the low coffee-table, its cushions clearly showing the imprint of a recent occupant. Again the long finger probed the nearby ashtray. "Cigar smoker here," he said. "Who stopped halfway through his cigar." Something among the small mounds of fine ash arrested his attention: a small, tightly pressed wad. Talent fished it out, smoothed out a crinkled red and gold cigar band, careful to avoid tearing it. He studied the flattened band briefly, then put it meticulously into a pocket of his vest. "Don't recognize the brand," he commented. He went to the third chair that interested him. "Whoever sat here didn't smoke," he said. "At least, the ashtray's clean. But there seems to have been a drink... ring on the side-table."

Mention of that item caused the lean detective to glance across at the bar. "Nice liquor supply," he said. "Used glasses. Well, Sergeant, maybe your Stella Nelson will be able to give us a little help in here later. Where to now?"

Ben Gable's answer was delayed by a loud hubbub of noises from the front hall... a medley of voices. "Upstairs, Lieutenant," Gable said. "If the cops out there, he's just in time. Sounds like the picture boys are here too."

TALENT, leading the way from the room, stooped and picked up a partly smoked cigar that obviously had been crushed out under foot on the heavy rug just inside the doorway. "Let me have a sheet of that note paper, Gus," he said to Ripley. "This isn't a Camel. It's a Lucky, and it's got lipstick." He rolled the long butt in the piece of paper Ripley gave him and dropped it into a pocket. Talent knew Dr. Hugh Walker. "We may as well head upstairs," he said to the medical examiner. "I'll go along up with you."

Gable volunteered. "Just gave me a quick once-over when I was there before. Not pretty. Guess you'll want the camera boys to get busy down here, won't you?"

Hal Jordan, heading a contingent from the photo lab, looked up from a case he was unstrapping. "Yeah, where do we start?" he asked.

"The library through there needs a thorough going-over," Talent said. "Then I imagine we'll need you upstairs."

A shaft of brilliant sunshine, split by branches of a tall evergreen, streamed through two windows at a low angle in Miriam Sterling's room.

The medical examiner moved around to the far side of the bed. Talent looked on from where he stood in the doorway. His stomach wasn't too good for this sort of thing... not all at once.

"Plains, ain't it, Lieutenant?" Gable said in almost a whisper. "She heard the burglar working on that open wall safe, reached under her pillow for that little gun, he heard the move, flashed his light on her, picked up that heavy stand maybe from the little table there, and let her have it on the forehead."

TALENT admitted to himself. He was watching Doc Walker, bent over the body, immune to the terrifying disfigurement of a once finely chiseled human face. A cruel jagged opening just above the bridge of the nose... a matted spread of brownish clotting blood spread over both eyes and across the nose and completely covering one cheek and down on the neck, spreading into dried rivulets toward a half-exposed breast...

The position of Miriam Sterling's body, twisted on its right side, bore mute evidence of her last moments of life. The coverlet had been folded back, down to her waistline, as if she had been preparing to get out of the bed, or had freed herself of the covering in the act of turning. Her right arm was crooked sharply at the elbow. Just beyond the rigid fingers of her right hand, as if it had slipped from their lifeless grasp, lay a small pearl-handled revolver. On the folds of the coverlet lay the heavy candlestick that had occupied a place on the teakwood stand beside the bed.

Lieutenant Talent was beside Walker when the medical man raised himself from his task.

"How long dead, doc?" Talent asked.

"Can't say too close. Six hours anyway. Maybe around seven."

Talent looked at his watch. Eight-forty. That would make it between 1:40 and 2:40, he calculated. That would fit in with the little electric clock downstairs... stopped at 1:31.

"Better allow leeway... could have been longer," Walker amended.

Wheat Overwhelms Railroad, Truck And Barge Lines

The railroads, trucks and barge lines are experiencing uphill business attempting to move the avalanche of golden grain to terminal markets. The wheat crop is even better than the most optimistic forecasts of a month ago.

Many elevators in the Journal Courier area are "jammed to the gills." They will not be able to accept deliveries Sunday. A few elevators have been filled for two days. They anxiously await the arrival of box cars or barges or trucks, anything to bail them out.

Trucks from this area have been hauling wheat to Alton, St. Louis and Havana. The Havana barge terminal of the Illinois Grain corporation, designed for a peak load of 40,000 bushels per day during the harvest season, received 85,000 bushels Friday. The company loaded four barges of 25,000 bushel capacity earlier in the week and was busy Saturday night loading a giant barge capable of hauling 85,000 bushels to the Gulf.

The Continental outlets at Havana and Naples were filled to capacity. They hoped southbound boats would drop off barges Sunday or Monday.

Plane Cuts Power Line Near Batavia
Batavia, Ill., July 10.—(P)—A small airplane had a brush with a high tension power line near Batavia today, and in this case the power line apparently came off second best.

The power line was severed and Aurora was without electricity for an hour early this evening. The plane has not been found. The office of sheriff Byron R. Scott reports the aircraft was an Aeronca Chief. Witnesses said the plane was following the course of the Fox river, flying so low it narrowly missed a boat on the stream shortly before it swooped upward in an effort to avoid the power line.

Horace H. Bancroft Tells Story Of Bryan's Victory

William Jennings Bryan's famous "Cross of Gold" speech, delivered on a stifling July night in Chicago's old Coliseum 52 years ago, launched a boom which made the 36 year old former Jacksonville attorney the standard bearer of the Democratic party.

It was really the climax of an ambitious, well handled one-man campaign to gain the nomination, according to an article which appears in today's Graphic section of the Chicago Tribune. The author is Horace H. Bancroft of Jacksonville, a former city editor of the Jacksonville Journal and the Tribune's correspondent since 1904.

"Up to the eve of his nomination, few persons other than Bryan's personal friends knew he was a candidate or thought he had the slightest chance," Mr. Bancroft related. "There was strong doubt, when the convention opened that he would be seated as a delegate. Yet, in a few tumultuous minutes of high emotion that followed his famous speech a boom was started that made Bryan the party nominee."

Bryan's Planned Events
"This turn of events was not, however, a remarkable piece of lucky fortune, as many at the time believed. Bryan, himself, devised the strategy that captured the convention and carried it out precisely as planned. So far as this writer has been able to learn, he is the only presidential candidate ever to predict his own nomination long in advance on the basis of a political strategem planned entirely by himself."

Only a short time before the convention Mr. Bryan had come to Jacksonville to visit Illinois College, his alma mater, and to deliver a banquet address. Afterwards he met with a group of his school friends, most of them members of Sigma Pi literary society, "the forum which first had witnessed his oratorical powers."

Discusses Procedure
Mr. Bancroft was the secretary of the society. The meeting lasted most of the night. The members were credulous about Bryan's plan of procedure to capture the nomination.

Mr. Bancroft recalls "Bryan's prediction seemed a figment of his imagination at the time." Yet a few weeks later he, as secretary of Sigma Pi, wrote the congratulatory message to the presidential nominee in behalf of the society after he had read the bulletin received at the Journal office.

On I. C. Board
Mr. Bancroft never voted for Bryan on any of the three occasions he ran for president. Yet he remained firm friends. The author of the Tribune article was the alumni member of the Illinois College board of trustees when Bryan resigned as president of the board after the body accepted $50,000 from the Carnegie Fund. Bryan labelled the gift "tainted money." Some of his Democratic friends left the board at the same time.

Bryan's theory of procedure ran something like this. He was known as a fluent orator and a staunch supporter of free silver. He knew large elements of the convention favored silver, but that the gold advocates were in charge of arrangements. He hoped to be seated as a delegate, but would appeal from the floor if denied. If accepted as a delegate he would ask for appointment to the resolutions committee.

Sought Minority Post
"If I am successful in getting on the resolutions committee, I am going to request permission to make the minority reports," Bryan told his Sigma Pi comrades. "And I want to talk last."

Through Bryan's maneuvers, everything worked according to schedule.

When his turn came to answer the arguments of Senator David B. Hill, a gold advocate, "his great moment had arrived," Mr. Bancroft writes.

The art of weaving dates back to man's earliest civilization.

Big Tornado Struck City 14 Years Ago Last Night

Fourteen years ago yesterday the Journal published the weather report. It read: "Warmer temperature with some chance of securing more rain." Little warning was given of what hit at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday night.

At the hour a tornado ripped through Jacksonville, leaving at least a score of injured, wrecked homes and business houses, and an estimated property damage of nearly one million dollars.

Thousands of Jacksonville residents had returned home from the three ring Sam B. Dill circus scant minutes before fury broke loose. The late Tom Mix and Tony, his horse, had drawn the crowd. Mix suffered a broken arm in the resulting storm.

A quotation from the Jacksonville Courier of July 11 states that "a survey showed that no section of the city escaped. The business district with demolished roofs, leveled chimneys and tangled wires was a scene of confusion after the storm spent its fury."

"Herded by flashes of lightning, the tornado broke at 10:30 o'clock, coming out of the northwest with fury that struck the city squarely. The next few minutes brought devastation over a wide area. Homes were lifted from foundations, roofs were flying before the fierce gale, windows crashed and streets were filled with a maze of trees, poles and wires."

"Many men and women worked heroically for several hours attending to the injured, treating them in their homes and taking them to hospitals. Dragging huge branches from the streets and sidewalks, it all happened 14 years ago to night, Tuesday, July 10, 1934."

Among those attending the services from out-of-town were Mrs. Anna Sheehan, St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Claysmith, Louisiana; Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Leahy, Ashland; Mrs. Frances Herath and Mrs. Edna Patterson, Peoria; Mrs. Katherine Ashbaker and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heckler, Springfield.

Mrs. Ford was born Oct. 18, 1908, in Springfield, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Locher.

Surviving are her husband; three children, Jimmy, Ruth Jean and Carroll; her parents; two sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Wainwright of Chicago and Mrs. Marian Oliver of Woveauqua, Ill.; and two brothers, Emmerson and Richard, both of Roodhouse.

Mrs. Ford was a member of the Methodist church, the Eastern Star lodge and the Roodhouse Woman's club.

The body was brought to the Mackey funeral home. Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Roodhouse Methodist church. Burial will be in Pine Tree cemetery near Patterson.

Miss Diane Field is visiting in Chicago at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Zeffur.

Lightning Sets Residence Afire Early Saturday

Flames, apparently touched off by lightning, endangered the residence of H. E. Grady at 115 Spaulding place for a time early Saturday morning before prompt action by members of the local fire department extinguished the blaze.

Firemen arrived at the scene at 1:25 a. m. and found two corners and the roof of the house afire. A booster line was used to put out the fire. One room of the house was damaged in addition to the roof.

The alarm was turned in by a passerby.

Fireworks To Be Shown At Park Sunday Night; Softball Games Carded

Jacksonville will see its fireworks after all. Officials of the Jacksonville Recreation club stated Saturday morning that the giant display will be shot Sunday night at Nichols Park softball diamond. The fireworks were postponed last Monday night when the entire Fourth of July celebration here was washed out.

A big dish of softball will be served up with the fireworks. Two games are on tab. At 6:30 p. m. (daylight time) the Pfeister Hybrid team of Winchester will tangle with the A League Pepsi-Cola outfit. At 8 o'clock the Knights of Columbus, presently tied for the AA loop lead, meet the Lytton Clothing store nine of Alton, one of that city's best clubs.

The ground portion of the fireworks display will be placed inside the ball park fence. An admission charge of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children will be made for games and the fireworks.

Washout of the Fourth of July celebration left the Recreation club in shaky financial condition, an official of the organization reported yesterday. "We planned the weekend in an effort to raise funds to clear our major debts," he reported. "Instead, we fell much farther behind."

Gate receipts Sunday night can't possibly offset the cost of the fireworks, for which $1,000 will be paid. But the display is ready and the club has been urged by civic organizations to go through with the show.

Several contributions have been received without solicitation. Contributors expressed the opinion that others would help if they knew the circumstances. The Recreation club announced that anyone wishing to help buy the fireworks might send their donation to Fireworks, Journal Courier, Jacksonville, Illinois.

Future of Game in Balance
The rise or fall of softball in Jacksonville depends upon the ability of the Recreation club to recover from the terrific financial beating they have taken. The organization, which sponsors, as its main activity, an organized junior program at the high school athletic field, provides entertainment for thousands each week at the Nichols Park diamond.

"We have tried to support our programs with two pay nights a week at the park," J. Harry Dowland, treasurer of the club, said last Saturday. "Actually, there has been only one week this season in which our gate receipts for the two nights met our operating costs for the week."

In a special meeting with softball managers earlier this week, the club announced a "hold the line" policy on expenses. Through the help of the team managers at Nichols Park expenses will be reduced approximately $120 per week beginning Monday.

Admission Still Free
Despite the organization's financial condition, managers and members agreed that it would be unwise to charge admission to the park on regular league nights. Admission at Nichols Park will continue to be free four nights a week, with the exception of tournament time.

According to Dowland, the Recreation club has a staggering debt of over $4,500 at the present time. Almost $3,000 of that figure is from improvements and operating costs at Nichols Park diamond. One thousand will be paid for the fireworks, and the remainder is from incidental expenses connected with the disastrous celebration.

Members of the Recreation club are determined to "stay with it" until it is cleared up, they reported after their emergency meeting. "With good luck and the help and cooperation of fans, players and interested citizens, our task won't be too great."

State Employment Rises Slightly, Gordon Reports

Chicago, July 10.—(P)—After declining for four months straight, employment in Illinois rose slightly in May.

Robert L. Gordon, state director of labor, reported today that men and women employed in non-agricultural work in mid-May totaled 3,124,400. This was an increase of 16,100, or .5 per cent, over the previous month.

Gordon added, however, that the May total in the non-agricultural field was 18,100 lower than that of March.

Increases in employment took place in May in most industrial groups. Illinois manufacturing plants employed 1,203,500 persons in mid-May. This was 5,500 more than in April but 50,000 less than in March.

Contract construction, mining, quarrying and petroleum work accounted for the largest percentage increases in employment during May.

The average human being consumes 12 pounds of salt a year for food.
